MOTIVATION

Today, streaming services are effectively the only way to access many films and TV shows, now that the world has moved away from physical copies of media like DVDs.

With our visual analytics tool, we aim to explore global media availability and consumption patterns, and investigate how those are interrelated with the World Happiness Report.

DATA OVERVIEW

World Happiness Report (2019)

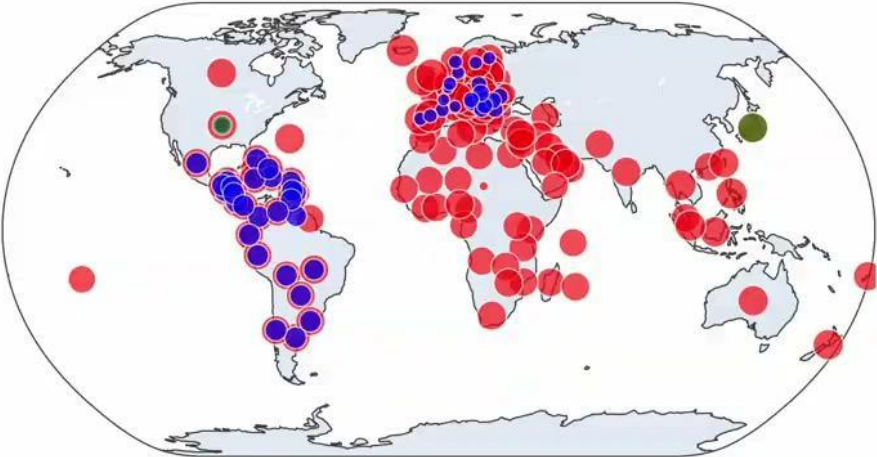

- Contains the Happiness Score for each Country

Streaming Service Data (Netflix, Hulu, HBO Max)

CONCLUSION

By a long shot, Netflix has the largest number of movie / show titles available across the largest number of countries. HBO Max is a close second, while Hulu is only accessible in the United States and Japan.

Netflix also has the clearest trend of more available titles corresponding to a greater happiness score
